

VOCABULARY FOR 17 MAY 2023

|                                                                                       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. DENOUEMENT (NOUN):(उपसंहार): outcome                             |
| Synonyms: upshot, consequence                                                  |
| Antonyms: origin                                                               |
| Example Sentence: I waited by the eighteenth green to see the denouement.      |
| 2. GRIM (ADJECTIVE):(अरुचिकर): stern                                |
| Synonyms: forbidding, uninviting                                               |
| Antonyms: amiable                                                              |
| Example Sentence: He gave a grim expression to me.                             |
| 3. ABROGATION (NOUN):(निराकरण): repudiation                         |
| Synonyms: revocation, repeal                                                   |
| Antonyms: institution                                                          |
| Example Sentence: The abrogation of the bogus constitution was very necessary. |
| 4. DEBILITATE (VERB): (दुर्बल करना): weaken                                    |
| Synonyms: enfeeble, enervate                                                   |
| Antonyms: strengthen                                                           |
| Example Sentence Hard drugs destroy families and debilitate communities.       |
| 5. ADVERSARY (NOUN):(प्रतिद्वंद्वी): opponent                       |
| Synonyms: rival, enemy                                                         |
| Antonyms: ally                                                                 |
| Example Sentence: I beat his old adversary in the quarter-finals.              |
| 6. BENIGN (ADJECTIVE):(सौम्य): kindly                               |

|                                                                         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Synonyms: kind, warm-hearted                                     |
| Antonyms: unfriendly                                             |
| Example Sentence: His mannerisms are firm yet benign.            |
| 7. RECALCITRANT (ADJECTIVE):(अक्खड़): uncooperative   |
| Synonyms: intractable, unmanageable                              |
| Antonyms: amenable                                               |
| Example Sentence: It is a class of recalcitrant ten-year-olds.   |
| 8. BREAKTHROUGH (ADJECTIVE):(उन्नत): advance          |
| Synonyms: development, step forward                              |
| Antonyms: setback                                                |
| Example Sentence: It was a major breakthrough in DNA research.   |
| 9. DECEPTIVE (ADJECTIVE):(भ्रामक): misleading         |
| Synonyms: illusory, illusive                                     |
| Antonyms: honest                                                 |
| Example Sentence: He put the question with deceptive casualness. |
| 10. BOHEMIAN (ADJECTIVE):(अपरंपरागत): unconventional  |
| Synonyms: nonconformist, unorthodox                              |
| Antonyms: conventional                                           |
| Example Sentence: As an artist, you live a bohemian lifestyle.   |